Headline:
Sunshine and possible showers later on Monday.

Today:
Monday looks set to start mostly dry with bright or sunny spells and winds remaining light. Increasing chance of a few sharp slow-moving showers during the afternoon and evening especially across western areas. Best of sunshine probably near coasts. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud mostly dispersing from eastern areas to leave long clear spells and a chilly night. Cloudier in remaining areas with evening showers fading. Light winds. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tuesday:
Bright morning before cloud increases by the afternoon with a few heavy and slow-moving showers developing well inland, perhaps thundery. Sunny near coasts. Light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
An unsettled spell of weather with some clear or sunny spells and heavy showers developing each day, with torrential downpours likely to affect some areas, perhaps more especially during Thursday.
